ANALYTICS

In-Depth, Confidential Assessments of Global Policy Trends

Confidential, bespoke, independent analysis of global economic and financial regulatory policy trends and their implications for the strategic interests of an individual company and its sector. Format and delivery frequency vary depending on client needs. The average is 2 reports per month ranging from 5 to 10 pages with references and graphics. Starts at USD$5,000 per month for one-year contracts. Analytics clients receive all Awareness products, at their choice.

AWARENESS

Point-in-Time Snapshots of Developments as they Occur

The Risk Telescope — Print

Published twice a month, The Risk Telescope provides subscribers with concise (5-10 pages) of proprietary insight and analysis regarding major political and market developments as they occur.

Relevant to the news cycle, but not competing with it, the publication provides senior executives, traders, and asset managers with timely perspective on developments in the G20, the Basel Committee, the IMF, and major sovereigns operating within these (and other) global groups.

Distribution occurs through email of PDFs to a confidential client list. This list is not shared with any third parties.

One-year subscriptions are available at the rate USD$36,000, payable in equal monthly installments or on an annual basis up-front.

The Risk Telescope — Social Media

BCM International Regulatory Analytics also harnesses social media to provide clients and subscribers with a more granular sense of how issues are developing in-the-moment and with more flexible tools to access content:

- The Risk Telescope: One-year subscriptions are available to Hedgehogs.net members. This content management and social media platform also provides readers with archiving and remote access. The platform has the capacity to support subscriber-only web-based events and forums.

- The Risk Telescope News Channel—PuzzlePieces: A proprietary data stream available only to Hedgehogs.net members. It combines a “consolidated tape” of the company’s Twitter and blog posts with a proprietary blog (“PuzzlePieces”) providing direct access to strategically important source documents. One-year subscriptions are available at the rate of USD$1,875.
